About Chagrin Valley Farms

Built in 1982, Chagrin Valley Farms is located on 85 acres in Bainbridge Twp., Ohio, just outside of Chagrin Falls. The facility includes 75,000-square-foot under roof including two indoor riding arenas. The Farm also has four outdoor rings, pastures and trails. Purchased by the Schneider family in 2017, it has evolved as a full-service equestrian campus, including heated indoor arenas, new footing and more. Chagrin Valley Farms has been instrumental in developing new horses and riders through riding lesson programs for all ages and abilities, summer camp programs for youth ages 5 to teen, and hosting horse shows for every level of competitor.

Riding lessons are the backbone of our growing equine industry, and Chagrin Valley Farms offers options for all levels and ages of riders. Whether you are new to the sport, looking to improve your skills, or returning after time off from riding, our programs have something for everyone.

Chagrin Valley Farms features experienced instructors who will teach you on the ground and in the saddle. For those getting started riding, our Beginner Introductory Package offers five private lessons designed to help riders learn the basics in a one-on-one environment.

For placement purposes, riders with some experience, but who are new to the lesson program will take a one-time introductory ride. This allows your instructor to get to know your level of riding and for you to get a feel for our program.

Group lessons

Group lessons are scheduled by riding level and include 3 to 6 people in the ring in a class. Beginner classes are offered to students with enough experience to control their horse in a group setting. Riders with no experience need to begin in private lessons.

Private and semi-private lessons

Private lessons with our instructors are scheduled on an individual basis between the student and instructor. Semi-private options are also available for two people in a shared session.

Beyond Riding Lessons

Chagrin Valley Farms offers a full spectrum of riding options. For riders enrolled in our lesson program and interested in competition, we host horse shows from beginner Academy horse shows and levels beyond.

For those ready for more than lessons, but not ready to own their own horse, ask about our new membership program that gives you an opportunity to ride more often with the same horse.

During the summer, we also offer weekly day camp sessions for ages 5 to teenager.

Our horses

Our school horses come from a variety of backgrounds and have various skill sets that will help meet your riding needs. From the beginner on a horse for the first time to the experienced rider looking for a higher level of challenge, we can match one of our talented mounts to your riding ability.
